

Item 1 - Introduction

Guardian Wealth Advisors, LLC (“GWA”) is an SEC-registered investment adviser that provides advisory services. Brokerage and investment advisory services and fees differ and it is important for you to understand the differences. Free and simple tools are available to research firms and financial professionals at investor.gov/CRS, which also provides educational materials about broker-dealers, investment advisers, and investing.

Item 2 – Relationship Services*What investment services and advice can you provide me?*

We offer investment advisory services to retail investors. As part of these services, we offer Investment Advisory Services, Financial Planning Services and Retirement Plan Consulting Services. We provide discretionary and non-discretionary advisory services to clients through separately managed accounts

GWA reviews the accounts themselves no less frequently than quarterly. With regard to advisory clients, GWA will accept clients on either a discretionary or nondiscretionary basis. For discretionary accounts, GWA generally has the authority to carry out various activities in the account, including: (i) trade execution; (ii) the ability to request checks on behalf of the client; and (iii) the withdrawal of advisory fees directly from the account. GWA then directs investment of the client’s portfolio using its discretionary authority. For non-discretionary accounts, the client may also execute a Limited Power of Attorney, which allows GWA to carry out trade recommendations and approved actions in the portfolio. Both discretionary and non-discretionary account clients may impose reasonable limitation or restrictions. Discretionary authority is granted through a clause in GWA’s Investment Advisory Agreement. GWA provides investment advisory services to individuals, high net worth individuals, retirement plans (including defined contribution plans, 401(k) plans, 403(b) plans, and profit sharing plans) and their participants, charitable organizations, trusts, estates, endowments, foundations, corporations and other business entities. GWA does not require a minimum account size for Investment Advisory Services, but certain accounts may be subject to a minimum annual fee. GWA may, at its discretion, make exceptions to any of the foregoing or negotiate special fee arrangements where GWA deems it appropriate under the circumstances.

For additional information, see item 4, 5, 7, 13 and 16 of the Form ADV Part 2A brochure.

Key questions to ask:

- Given my financial situation, should I choose an investment advisory service? Why or why not?
- How will you choose investments to recommend to me?
- What is your relevant experience, including your licenses, education and other qualifications? What do these qualifications mean?

Item 3 – Fees, Costs, Conflicts, and Standard of Conduct*What fees will I pay?*

For Investment Advisory Services, GWA charges as a percentage of assets under management and is calculated at the close of each calendar quarter (or month, if applicable). For Financial Planning Services, GWA typically charges fees on a flat-rate or hourly basis. For Retirement Plan Consulting Services, GWA charges fees on a flat-rate or calculated as a percentage of assets in the plan and are typically calculated by the plan’s custodian. Fees are generally payable quarterly, in advance, but GWA may enter into alternate arrangements (such as billing monthly or in arrears). Fees for services may be negotiated with each client on an individual basis. At its sole discretion, GWA may make exceptions or negotiate special fee arrangements where GWA deems it appropriate under the circumstances. While the specific Fee schedule for any given client will be identified in the Investment Advisory Agreement, the typical range of fees is between 0.30% and 1.5% depending on the size of the client account, services to be provided, and other factors negotiated between the client and their investment adviser representative.

Advisory fees are asset based. The more assets there are your advisory account, the more you will pay in fees; thus, the firm may have an incentive to encourage you to increase the assets in your account. You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Fees and costs will reduce any amount of money you make on your investments over time. Please make sure you understand what fees and costs you are paying.

For additional information, please see item 5 of the Form ADV Part 2A brochure.

Key questions to ask:

Help me understand how these fees and costs might affect my investments. If I give you $10,000 to invest, how much will go to fees and costs? How much will be invested for me?

What are your legal obligations to me when acting as my investment adviser? How else does your firm make money and what conflicts of interest do you have?

When we act as your investment adviser, we have to act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours. At the same time, the way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts because they can affect the investment advice we provide you. Here are some examples to help you understand what this means:

GWA has entered into an arrangement with Aptus Capital Advisors, LLC (“Aptus”), an SEC registered investment adviser, in which Aptus will provide certain administrative, reporting, and other middle or back office services to GWA. Christian Keedy and Michael Hensley are also owners and managers of Guardian Wealth Partners, LLC (“GWP”). Certain owners of GWP are also investment adviser representatives of Aptus. GWP has entered into a revenue sharing arrangement with Aptus, pursuant to which GWP receives a portion of the fees generated by investment advisory services provided to Aptus by the owners of GWP. GWA may also engage GWP to provide certain middle or back office or other administrative services.

These relationships, along with any compensation received by GWA or its owners, create a conflict of interest to the extent that GWA recommends the services of Aptus; however, GWA has adopted policies and procedures that expects its investment adviser representatives to place the client’s interests ahead of the interests of GWA, its owners, or investment adviser representatives and will not recommend the services of Aptus unless it is in the interest of the client. Any services provided by Aptus are separate and distinct from GWA’s services, and are provided pursuant to separate client agreements. Clients are not obligated, contractually or otherwise, to use the services of Aptus or to act upon any of GWA’s recommendations with respect to outside professionals.

For more information about our conflicts, please see Item 10 of the Form ADV Part 2A brochure.

Key questions to ask:

How might your conflicts of interest affect me and how will you address them?

How do your financial professionals make money?

Our financial professionals are compensated based on management fees paid by advisory clients. This receipt of payment may create a conflict of interest to the extent that GWA recommends the services of Aptus. However, clients are not obligated to use the services of Aptus or to act upon any of GWA’s recommendations with respect to outside professionals.
